China's Finest Taking Over Trenches From Original Forces

FIRING DESULTORY CONTINUES THROUGHOUT NIGHT; JAPANESE SPEED FIRING IN MORNING

Shanghai, Aug. 23 (6.40 a.m.).

It is reported in reliable quarters that the First and Second Divisions of the Chinese Army, the finest fighting units under the command of Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, have now replaced the 87th and 88th Divisions in the Shanghai area.—Reuter.

QUIET NIGHT, VIOLENT DAWN

Shanghai, Aug. 23 (9.45 a.m.).

After one of the quietest nights since the commencement of-hostilities in and around Shanghai, heavy firing was resumed this morning at 5.30 o'clock.

At this hour three Japanese bombers flew over Pootung and emptied their bomb racks on the Chinese gun positions. The Chinese guns did not reply, however, and it is probable they held their fire rather than give their exact location away to the attackers.

Simultaneously, the Japanese warships in the Whangpoo opened fire, sending about half a dozen rounds from their main batteries hurtling into the Chinese defence areas. These, too, failed to awake any response.

Throughout the night there were occasional bursts of firing by light artillery, trench mortars and machine-guns. The position remains unchanged.—Reuter.

Recovering from Shock Shanghal, Aug. 23. (10 a.m.).

Despite the continuation of Sino-"Japanese hostilities, Shanghai" gradually recovering from the tremendous shock which it has . suffered.

All foreign banks re-opened for sbusiness on something approaching a normal basis this morning, while the Chinese Chamber of Commerce is urging Chinese shopkeepers to re-'commence trading, with the assurance that they will receive adequate protection from the police and Volunteers.

Meanwhile, bus and tram services have resumed, although area against Chinese aeroplane restricted scale.-Reuter.

Kingston, Jamaica. In the Jamaican case the mother, 8½ months pregnant, died of eclampsia (a convulsion arising in rare cases in the late stages of pregnancy). The child was delivered within ten minutes by turning. The London case occurred eight or nine years ago in Stoke Newington. A woman was knocked down right outside a doctor's surgery by a lorry and killed. The doctor had the body taken into his consulting room and immediately performed a Caesarian section, and delivered a living child. Before 1925 the legal status of a child born post mortem was com-plicated. Under the laws of tenure it was necessary for a child to be born alive before the death of its mother if it was to inherit. Since the law of "tenure by courtesy" was abolished in 1925 by the Administration of Estates Act the question does not arise.

ONE BIG UNION FOR MINERS?

Blackpool, July 20. A proposal to abolish all district unions in the British coalfields, and to form one big organisation which would become the largest trade union in the world, will be the principal issue before the annual conference of the Mineworkers' Federation, which opens here to-morrow.

Kent will propose that the executives prepare as soon as possible a scheme for the formation of one national organisation for all mineworkers and then call a special national conference to put it into effect.

It is understood that the executives are favourably disposed to the idea. One of the main difficulties that national leaders have had to contend with in the past is that even when national decisions are taken they have no guarantee that the district organisations will abide by them, NATIONAL BARGAINING THEN . If the scheme succeeds, the new association will cover over 710,000 This would create a serious problem for the coal owners, who at present will only negotiate district by district. If the districts are abolished they would have to recognise the new !

association. Other big issues before the conference will be a demand by Kent and Lancashire for a new wage drive. It is understood that the executives will oppose this as inopportune at the moment and there will probably be a big fight on the matter.

OUR GUIDE THE CINEMAS

"Slave Ship" (Queen's Theatre And Alhambra Theatre, to-day),-Here is a picture which has all the qualities of greatness. Its magnificent sweep and delicate shading is brought about by the studious work of the actors, leading among whom are Warner Baxter, Wallace Beery, Elizabeth Allen and Mickey Rooney, and some finely imaginative directing. It is an emotional picture, yet retains a lively sense of proportion. Certainly an important contribution to the screen's best entertainments of the year.

The story of the 20th Century-Fox Film starring Warner Baxter and Wallace Beery

TN DESPERATION, Captain Levett shapes the course of the Albatrons for the nearby British island of St. Rielena, although he knows that mosting British or American authorities simest corininis means death for him as a slave-runner. Next day, the crew realizes where the ship is heading, and, led by Thompson (Wallace Hosry), make a desperate charge to get control of the ship.

THE mulineous are pressing Levott hard when a British man-of-war is alghied. The intilneers turn toward getting rid of the shaves to compact the "evidence". Lavott (Warner Baxter), who is wounded. and his wife (Elizabeth Alian), aided by the cabin boy, Swifty (Mickey Hooney).

ADOARD the warship, most of the slave renners are swiftly ordered hanged by a drum-head court-martial Builty is spared because of his youth. When Levett is called before the naval court, his wife pleads for him, telling the officers that he tried value to preyout the stave deal. But his record is against him, and the trial board retires to consider his case while the vomet's master at army grimly propares another moose.

DUT HIS wife's pice is not in vain. The D trial board decides to acquit the "last slaver". With the memory of those horrible days to live down, Lovett and his wife take passage to the island of Jamaica. There, in the peace and calm of a tropical farm, they pook the happiness which almost had been matched from them.

UNITED STATES YEAR OF TENNIS TRIUMPHS

Dempsey and Tunney-Dollar Millionaires - Public Pays to see the Big Men - Meteorie Arrival of Toniny Farr

A young Welsh boxer took part in ten-round contest in London in May, 1033. His share of the spoils hay, 1033. His share of the spoils was a beating, plus £15. That same boxer-Tommy Farr-fought again more recently. Result, this time -victory, plus £3,500, plus prospects.

Just a year before Farr had that £15 fight—it was against Eddie Steele at the Crystal Palace, and the promoter was Sidney Hulls-Larry Gains and Primo Carnera met at the White City. They drew a crowd of 88,000, the largest in the history of boxing in this country.

I saw Carnera smashed to defeat by a third-rate negro-finished as a boxer and, it was said, as near penniless as makes no difference. The last time I saw Gains box was in a small East London hall, which is at times a swimming bath.

Such are the see-sawings of boxing. Farr may end his career as "broke" as Carnera; he may end it as rich as Gene Tunney. He is a shrewd and careful young man, so that it is probable that he will retire with something of a fortune.

Luck enters into the finances of boxing as much as it does into that of any gambling card game. Farr's £3,500 purse was for no championship. Nearly a year ago, a London ceived twice as much as Dempsey, lightweights. Jack Petersen revived British boxing down to the flyweights by his spectacular methods and successes. But this Tommy Farr, it seems, can succeed where Petersen falls. He may lack the colour of Petersen, but he can do what Petersen never could-put Walter Neusel on the mat for a count of ten. His victory will mean much to the stars in the lighter weights.

We now, evidently, have a champion who can be, without shame, mentioned among the Schmelings, the Braddocks and the Louises. Until recently we were forced to regard Farr as a stolld, honest fighter, but -to be truthful-drab. Now we know better. We were so often promised a "new Phil Scott," a "new Jack Petersen," a "new Len Harvey," a "new Ben Foord." The new Tommy Farr has appeared round the corner without preliminary heralding. If you desire to see a boxer more spectacular than the Farr who unveiled himself against Neusel, you must be hard to please. The public, it may be taken for granted, will now pay to see Farr, and promoters can do what they like about the matter. We have the material for the large-scale boxing match. The promoter may go ahead-and build. It is, I must confess, a pity that we cannot in this matter count the weather as our certain ally. If a New

Tommy Farr, the young British heavyweight boxing champion fights Joe Louis, unofficial champion of the world on Thursday next. Four years ago Farr, completely unknown, received £15 for a fight. Recently he collected £3,500 for a single scrap. Thousands of dollars are involved in Thursday's fight. In this article John Crow of the London Morning Post describes how L.S.D. has become one of the most important factors and influences in the Ring to-day.

America underwent five postponements and yet drew a big gate. None the less, there are many people who believe that London will soon be drawing the big money of boxing, but it must be remembered that the success of boxing in America depended to a great extent upon the Beauty specialists tell me that, with knives and treatments, I can remain lovely to look at until just about 50 provided I sleep a lot and am careful with my eyes.

Wise old men tell me that unselfishness is the answer, and unwise young one say "you aren't old yet, so why worry?" But, all the same. I believe that there is a period between 30 and 40 when every man and every woman has a nasty sinking feeling about getting older and wonders wildly how they had best adjust themselves to it. Once you come to your decision I imagine the battle is won and you are heading for peace and happiness. But I haven't decided yet how to do it. There is a woman I much admire who has two children. She is very pretty and is only two years older than I am. She has a nice husband and has always been admired by men. And now she has settled down and says that she is going to spend the rest of her days thinking and plan-

Farouk, at 18, Egypt's New King

EGYPT'S NEW KING-Already the idol of his prople, six-foot Farouk I was crowned king of Egypt on his 18th birthday, July 29. Besides a pic uresque throng of Mohammendans, visitors from many lands were present at the coronation in Curo. Upper right shows the youthful and athletic monarch as a man of the world, noted for his polse. Upper left, greeted as a youngster by his late father's Grand Chamberlain. Lower left, Farouk 11 fencing togs. Lower right, as Prince; with his sisters, Princesses Fathiya, Faiza and Faika.

WITH FLEXIBLE SNOUTS—Maybe a distant relative of the 'possum, but with a skeletal structure that dates back about 30,000 years, here are rare redent-like solenodons received by the New York Central Park Zoo, as gifts from General Rafael L. APPARENTLY CHINESE HONGKEW DEFENCES HEAVILY

Shanghai, Aug. 23 (10.15 a.m.).

With the exception of two Japanese destroyers, which have remained to guard the Hongkew area against Chinese aeroplane attacks, all Japanese war craft left the Whangpoo River berths, off the International Settlement during the night. They proceeded to Woosung, there to cover a determined attempt to land Japanese: troops from transports in a flanking movement against strong Chinese forces in the Liuho area.

A battle between Japanese warships and Chinese shore batteries is raging this morning.

The bombardment by the Chinese artiller along the coast and inland began at 8.30 this morning.

Admiral Sir Charles Little and the Commanders-in-Chief of the French and American Fleets have protested to the Japanese naval authorities against the action of Japanese warships in firing shells from positions near the naval buoys off the Bund, where foreign men-of-war are moored.

The protest requests the Japanese warships concerned to move about half a mile down river from the Garden Bridge.—Reuter.

Shanghai, Aug. 23 (9 a.m.).

Unimpeachable foreign military sources state that the Japanese have succeeded in landing 15,000 army reinforcements in the Shanghai area, but their exact location is not revealed.

It is noteworthy that Chinese reports admit the Japanese tried to land twice at Woosung last night but were repulsed by Chinese gunfire, in spite of the heavy bombardment by Japanese warships. These ships covered the disembarkation.

SHELLS LAND IN MIDDLE OF INTERNATIONAL AREA

Shanghai, Aug. 23 (2.05 p.m.) Two shells landed in front of the sky-scraper departmental stores owned by the Sincere and Wing On companies early this afternoon.

They crashed into the densely crowded street outside the main entrances of the stores, Nanking Road, and it is feared that hundreds are dead and injured.—Reuter.

700 EVACUATED FROM SHANGHAI ARRIVE IN H.K.

Two More Ships Here STOP PRESS From War-Torn City

Over 700 more refugees arrived from Shanghai this morning by two Blue Funnel boats, the Maron and the Patroclus. The former ship carried the first large batch of evacuating men, while practically all the passengers on board the Patroclus were women and and children. A notable exception was Mr. M. J. Solomon, a well known Shanghai resident. Mr. Solomon is a cripple and was removed straight from the wharf to the Kowloon Hospital in an ambulance.

Both ships had docked early and in the case of the Patroclus practically all the passengers had been disembarked by 10.15 A Japanese Army spokesman a.m. According to her skipper, Captain W. McLure, the voyage said to-day that well over 50,000 was a calm one but the ship saw some action before she left Shanghai. While anchored in the Astrea Channel, Chinese snipers were busy on shore, and firing was heard and seen by the passengers. Japanese gunboats cruised alongside more than once, but these were in the nature of scouts more than any thing and did not retaliate to the shots from land.

FEELING OF RELIEF

369 CASES OF CHOLERA LAST WEEK

Influx From Canton Possible Cause

Hopes of Decline Still Prevail

The biggest jump in the number of cholera cases since the epidemic commenced towards the end of July was recorded last week, when 369 cases, with 162 deaths, was reported to the authorities, representing an increase of 164 cases and 49 deaths on the previous seven days' figures.

Nevertheless, in an interview with Telegraph representative morning, Dr. D. J. Valentine, Director of Medical Services, said there were indications during the latter part of last week that the epidemic had reached its peak, and he hoped that a gradual decline will be registered from now on.

The figures quoted by Dr. Valentine reveal the seriousness of the epidemic. They are as follows:

Cases Deaths Week ending July 31 12 Week ending August 7 51 Week ending Aug, 14 205 Week ending Aug. 21 369 Totals 637

OVER DEATH

New York, Aug. 6.

MEDICAL skill, triumphing over death, brought a baby into the world to-day, 60 seconds after the mother : had " died - of meningitis.

For two days nurses had watched over the mother, Mrs. Mary Boccassini, in Philadelphia General Hospital. The moment she died they sent for a doctor who performed an operation, and the baby—a girl weighing 416. —was born.

The child had a temperature of 109, her mother's temperature at the time of death, but within two hours this had been reduced by five degrees. She lies in an oxygen tent and is fed with a solution of sugar and salt water, Mr. Boccassini, who works in a sugar mill, had stood beside his wife's bed while a priest administered the East Sacrament. His first wife died under a Caesarean operation, but when he was told that nothing would be done while Mary was alive he consented to the effort being made to bring his baby into, the world. "I want the baby to live. We had planned so long for it," he said. "We bought so many nice clothes. But the doctors will have to care for her because I have to go out to

TWO INTERESTING CASES There are other instances of children having been delivered post mortem. The two most interesting having occurred in recent years. One was in London and one at Kingston, Jamaica. In the Jamaican case the mother, 814 months pregnant, died of celampsia (a convulsion arising in rare cases in the late stages of pregnancy). The child was delivered within ten minutes by turning.

The London case occurred eight or nine years ago in Stoke Newington.

A woman was knocked down right outside a doctor's surgery by a lerry and killed. The doctor had the body taken into his consulting room and immediately performed a Caesarian section, and delivered a living child. Before 1925 the legal status of a child born post mortem was complicated. Under the laws of tenure it was necessary for a child to be born alive before the death of the mother if it was to inherit. Since

ONE BIG UNION FOR MINERS?

Blackpool, July 20. A proposal to abolish all district unions in the British coalfields, and to form one big organisation which would become the largest trade union in the world, will be the principal issue before the annual conference of the Mineworkers' Federation, which opens here to-morrow.

Kent will, propose that the executives prepare as soon as possible a scheme for the formation of one national organisation for all mineworkers and then call a special national conference to put it into effect. It is understood that the executives are favourably disposed to the idea. One of the main difficulties that national leaders have had to contend with in the past is that even when. national decisions are taken they have no guarantee that the district organisations will abide by them.

NATIONAL BARGAINING THEN If the scheme succeeds, the new association will cover over 710,000

This would create a serious problem for the conl owners, who at present will only negotiate district by district. If the districts are abolished they would have to recognise the new association. Other big issues before the conference will be a demand by Kent and Lancashire for a new wage drive. It is understood that the executives will oppose this as inopportune at the moment and there will probably be a blg fight on the matter.

SLAVE SHIP

The story of the 20th Century-Fox Film starring Warner Baxter and Wallace Beery

IN DESPERATION, Captain Levett shapes the course of the Albetroes for the nearby British island of St. Helena, although he known that most-· ing British or American authorities almost certainly means death for him as a slave-runner. Next day, the crew realizes where the ship is heading, and, led by Thompson (Wallace Beery), make a desperate charge to get control of the ship.

THE mutinoers are pressing Loveti hard whom a British man-of-war is sighted. The mutineers turn toward getting rid of the staves to conceal the "evidence". Lovett (Warner Bexter), who is wounded, and his wife (Elizabeth Allan), aided by the cable boy, Swifty (Mickey Booney). got away in the ship's best.

A DOARD the warship, most of the slave-runners are swiftly ordered hanged by a drum-head court-martial. Swifty is spared because of his youth. When Lovett is called before the naval court, his wife picads for him, telling the officers that he tried value to prevent the slave deal. But his record is against him, and the trial board rollres to consider his case while the vessel's master-at-arms grimly prepares another noose.

DUT HIS wife's plea is not in vain. The D trial board decides to sequit the "last slaver". With the memory of those herrible days to live down. Lovett and his wife take. passage to the Island of Jamaica, There, in the peace and calm of a tropical farm, they seek the happiness which almost had been snatched from them. THE END.

Dempsey and Tunney-Dollar Millionaires - Public Pays to see the Big Men - Meteoric Arrival of Tommy Farr

(By John Crow)

A young Welsh boxer took part in a ten-round contest in London in May, 1933. His share of the spoils was a beating, plus £15. That same boxer-Tommy Farr-fought again more recently. Result, this time -victory, plus £3,500, plus prospects.

Just a year before Farr had that * £15 flight—it was against Eddie Steele at the Crystal Palace, and the promoter was Sidney Hulls-Larry Gains and Primo Carnera met at the White City. They drew a crowd of 88,000, the largest in the history of boxing in this country.

I saw Carnera last summer smashed to defeat by a third-rate negro-finished as a boxer and, it was said, as near penniless as makes no difference. The last time I saw Gains box was in a small Ea & London hall, which is at times a swimming bath.

Such are the see-sawings of boxing. Farr may end his career as "broke" as Carnera; he may end It as rich as Gene Tunney. He is a shrewd and careful young man, so that it is probable that he will retire with something of a fortune.

Luck enters into the finances of boxing as much as it does into that of any gambling card game. Farr's £3,500 purse was for no champion- . A world's championship match in New York last June brought in less than £600. The fight between Braddock and Louis did not bring back the million-dollar gate.

There are to-day no promoters of the calibre of the late Tex Rickard, for whom Dempsey drew over ten million dollars. But it is not to flourish-it is the Dempseys. That peak year was the year when Dempsey was at his brighest and best. He himself drew more than £150,-

1000 in that year in two contests. it is likely that the earnings of 3-6, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2,--United Press. boxers in the lighter weights rise. Boxing is popular and the public is more willing to see even bad fights. When there is a drab, colourless champion like Braddock, interest inevitably flags. Jack Petersen revived British boxspectacular methods and successes. Saturday. But this Tommy Farr, it seems, can succeed where Petersen fails. He may lack the colour of Petersen, but he can do what Petersen never could—put Walter Neusel on the mat for a count of ten. His victory will mean much to the stars in the lighter weights.

We now, evidently, have a champion who can be, without shame, mentioned among the Schmelings, the Braddocks and the Louises. Until recently we were forced to regard Farr as a stolld, honest fighter, but -to be truthful-drab. Now we know better. We were so, often promised a "new Phil Scott," a "new Jack Petersen," a "new Len Harvey," a "new Ben Foord." The new Tommy Farr has appeared round the corner without preliminary heralding. If you desire to see a boxer more spectacular than the Farr who unvelled himself against Neusel, you must be hard to please. The public, it may be taken for granted, will now pay to see Farr, and promoters can do what they like about the matter. We have the material for the large-scale boxing match. The promoter may go ahead-and build.

It is, I must confess, a pity that we cannot in this matter count the weather as our certain ally, If a New York promoter announces a large show, he does not really have to worry to any great extent about the weather. The odds are against rain during the summer, while the complacent public seems to be completely undeterred even if there does have to be a postponement. One world's championship in recent years in British heavyweight boxing champion fights Joe Louis, unofficial champion of the world on Thursday next. Four years ago Farr, completely unknown, received £15 for a fight. Recently he collected £3,500 for a single scrap. Thousands of dollars are involved in Thursday's fight. In this article John Crow of the London Morning Post describes how £.S.D. has become one of the most important factors and influences in the Ring to-day.

America underwent five postponements and yet drew a big gate. None the less, there are many people who believe that London will soon be drawing the big money of boxing, but it must be remembered that the success of boxing in America depended to a great extent upon the spectacular methods of its former championsi

The effectiveness of Miss Alice Marble on her own courts was fully demonstrated, and there was no arguing about her crushing defeat of Miss Stammers.

ENCOURAGING

From the losers' viewpoint, the encournging feature of the contest was the comparatively good displays of Miss Mary Hardwicke, Great things are still prophested of this 24year-old player, who is essentially an attacker and is almost unbeatable when in proper form. That she could take a set from both Miss | Marble and Miss Jacobs indicates that she lags only but slightly behind these fine players, and possibly it is only experience that is really necessary to make Miss Hardwicke into a champion.

It was not altogether surprising to see Miss Margot Lumb so outclassed by Mrs. Fabyan. In her first Wightman Cup match England's No. 1 squash rackets player was pitted ugainst one of the most efficientseven after England had won three exponents of tennis the Wightman Tennis is being more and more encouraged by schoolmasters in Hongkong, but as yet there has been no official recognition of any such movement. Here, surely, is an excellent avenue for the L.T.A. to explore. Every encouragement should be given the youngsters who display keenness and aptitude. All of the better not out). known schools possess talent, but like the majority of Hongkong players, they are more or less left to their own devices, and allowed to find their own feet. This may be a splendid contribution towards building character, but it hardly tends to produce better tennis players.

NO OFFICIAL RECOGNITION

Some of the schools boast on their staff one or two masters who are good enough players and keen enough about the game to devote hours in giving their pupils advice, practice and encouragement. Others are less fortunate, and the youngsters have to struggle along as best they can experiencing the painful pangs of Inboured progress, and those periods which puzzle and disappoint when their tennis seems to have grown

This is a common experience, but its depressing effects could vastly lightened if the youngsters ! The L.T.A. might do local tennis a worthy service by offering to interest itself in school tennis. They might, for example (providing the schools are willing), appeal to our leading players, to volunteer to pay weekly visits to the schools, giving the more immature players a little bit of valuable coaching, offering the boys hints concerning technique, and by playing themselves, give the youngsters opportunities of studying this technique first hand.

This was' proved last winter when the schoolboys football league was resuscitated. Schoolboys are not pot-hunters, and they are not likely to become so while competitions are properly controlled. What better organisers could there be than a responsible body like the Lawn Tennis Association in collaboration with the schoolmasters?

DSYCHOLOGISTS tell me that I must get outside myself I and become detached and impersonal and that, anyway, most journalists are neurotic-so you can guess that my talks with them were friendly and not those of a patient.

Beauty specialists tell me that, with knives and treatments, I can remain lovely to look at until just about 50 provided I sleep a lot and, am careful with my eyes.

Wise old men tell me that unselfishness is the answer, and unwise young one say "you aren't old yet, so why worry?". But, all the same, I believe that there is a period between 30 and 40 when every man and every woman has a nasty sinking feeling about getting older and wonders wildly how they had best adjust themselves to it. Once you come to your decision I imagine the battle is won and you are heading for peace and happiness.

But I haven't decided yet how to do it. There is a woman I much admire who has two children. She is very pretty and is only two years older than I am. She has a nice husband and has always been admired by men. And now she has settled down and says that she is going to spend the rest of her days thinking and planning for her children. She is not going to dye her hair when it turns grey. She is not going to have a "face-lift." She is going to forsake the company of men and live only for womenfolk. And she really looks extremely happy and content on her decision.

T KNOW another woman, also a few years 1 older than myself, also married and with three children. She says she will fight old-ageevery step of the way. That, of course, she will go to beauty specialists and mix with young people if she wants to, and compete with them as well. And that her children will like her far more if she keeps alert, young and golden-haired than if she gets fat and grey.

And so, I want to know how to grow old and I am still going around I asking questions.

Farouk, at 18, Egypt's New King

EGYPT'S NEW KING—Already the idol of his people, six-foot Farouk I was crowned king of Egypt on his 18th birthday, July 29. Besides a picturesque throng of Mohammendans, visitors from many lands were present at the coronation in Cairo. Upper right shows the youthful and athletic monarch as a man of the world, noted for his poise. Upper left, greeted as a youngster by his late father's Grand Chamberlain. Lower left, Farouk in fencing togs. Lower right, as Prince, with his sisters, Princesses Fathiya, Faiza and Faika.

WITH FLEXIBLE SNOUTS-Maybe a distant relative of the 'possum, but with a skefetal structure that dates back about 30,000 years, here are rare rodent-like solenodons received by the New York Central Park Zoo, as gifts from General Rafael L. Trujillo, dictator of the Dominican Republic. Insects are their principal food, which they eatch with their flexible snouts.

KING OF THE GYPSIES-At the first Gypsy coronation held in 1,000 years, Janusz Kwick was crowned king, in a spectacular ceremony at Warsaw, Poland. He is shown with attendants. Ceremonial robes and chair were borrowed from the Warsaw Opera House, Janusz succeeds Matelasz Kwiek, who recently died.

RUDY'S WIFE NOW AN EXTRA—Once the envy of almost every other woman; as wife of the late Rudolph Valentino, romantic screen idol, Jean Acker now plays small parts in Hollywood as a dress extra. By a twist of fate, which already has heaped misfortunes on her, she works in the same studio where she knew fame as a leading woman. She is shown here with Fredric March.

BULK OF $25,000,000 - Four children of the late Guglielmo Marconi, wireless inventor, share his fortune in Rome, estimated at $25,000,000, but the youngest, Elettra, 7, is to receive the bulk of it. Only child of the inventor's second marriage, she is shown with her mother, Marchesa Marconi, during a visit to the inventor in London two years ago.

FUTILE NANKING ATTACK

Bombers Fail To-Damage City

Missiles Land Beyond Gates

Nanking, Aug. 23. Three Japanese bombers staged a spectacular raid over China's capital last night, appearing at 10 p.m. from a south-easterly direction in brilliant moonlight and a cloudless sky. 1

Searchlights from the ground immediately spotted the bombers and anti-aircraft batteries opened immediately. Heavy machine guns fired tracer bullets and one after mother ranged the speeding machines.

The more adventurous of the popu-lace took advantage of the moonlight and remained outside the dug-outs and cellars which are the city's refuge from air raiders. They had a full and complete view of the combat.

The attacking pilots appeared to be dazzled by the powerful searchlight rays. They dropped their bombs, but these landed outside the south gate of the city, and then flew across the very centre of the capital. They vanished for a few minutes, and fifteen minutes later they had turned and headed in the direction from which they came. The "all clear" signal was sounded at 11.30 p.m .- Reuter.

NIGHT RAID FAILS

Nanking, Aug. 22 (1.10 p.m.). Another attempted air raid on Nanking at night by three heavy Japanese bombers was frustrated when the nir defences of the capital went into action and drove the invading planes away.

Warning reports were received by the military headquarters, and searchlights were turned on the approaching Japanese machines when they flew into range.

Anti-aircraft guns greeted them with heavy fire, and the raiders turned back and disappeared.

China Says Winning Japan

Madrid, Aug. 22. The fighting in China provided Senor Del Vayo, Spanish Prime Minister, with the text of a speech in which he appealed to Socialists and Communists to patch up their differences and support the Loyalist army unitedly, otherwise, he warned, the war would be of long duration.

Drawing attention to the Sino-Japanese conflict, Senor Del Vayo declared: "Thanks to the unity of the army and the proletariat, the Chinese are winning the war."-Reuter.

DECLARE JAPAN'S AGAIN BROKEN LINE DEFENCE

Shanghai, Aug. 22 (4 p.m.).

The vanguards of the right column of the Chinese force, advancing steadily south from the Chapei sector, have occupied the intersection of Jukong and North Szechuan Roads, near the Isis Theatre, according to an announcement made by the Chinese military headquarters this afternoon.

Following the retreat of the Japanese in that area, the main body of Chinese troops from Hungjao moved rapidly forward last night to reinforce the vanguards now pressing north towards the Japanese Naval Landing Headquarters.

Another unit is moving east and west to "mop up" the Japanese north of Soochow Creek.

The huge fires which broke out on Woosung, Haining and Range Roads in the Hongkew district last night, continue unabated to-day. According to an eye-witness who escaped from the war zone, the fires were started by the Japanese in an effort to check the advance of the Chinese forces.-Central News.
